Video · Government contract training, United States

GovClose

A government contracting educator's YouTube channel grew from 40,000 to 58,000 subscribers in two months

Before. GovClose teaches people how to win US federal contracts and build careers in government sales. Its YouTube channel had about 40,000 subscribers.

What we did. We took over the channel's Shorts and its long-form videos.

The result. Total views went up 503% over those two months, and more viewers went on to join the GovClose membership at govclose.com.

Paid ads · Commercial exterior cleaning, Australia

Clean Haven

$83,500 of cleaning work from $1,200 of Meta ads

Before. Clean Haven washes building façades, car parks and shade sails for strata complexes, apartment blocks, warehouses and retail sites across New South Wales.

What we did. We rebuilt the website for commercial buyers and ran lead campaigns on Facebook and Instagram for façade and shade sail cleaning, with each new lead sent to the owner's phone within minutes.

The result. The closed work so far is worth nearly 70 times what the ads cost.

Paid ads · Driveways and groundworks, England

GroundTek Civils

Google Ads for a West Midlands contractor returned 14.67 times what they cost

Before. GroundTek lays driveways and carries out groundworks across the West Midlands. It had no website, so its marketing ran on social media with no way to track an enquiry.

What we did. The site has 507 pages, with a page for each service and town, landing pages written for the ads, 21 guides such as what a driveway costs, and a dashboard for leads, quotes and invoices. We also ran its Google Ads.

The result. So far, £18,800 of revenue has been tracked back to the ads, and organic clicks from Google rose 326% in the site's first 90 days.

Paid ads · Resort, Jericho, Palestine

Raha Resort

The brand, website and launch campaigns for a new resort in Jericho, with 12,000 waitlist sign-ups before it opened

Before. Raha was preparing to open as Jericho's only full-service resort, with no website and nothing online.

What we did. We designed the brand, built the website with room booking, and made the ads, creative and sign-up pages for a launch aimed at guests in six markets.

The result. The launch campaigns reached more than 48,000 people in six markets, and 12,000 people joined the waitlist before opening. Two events have sold out, and the resort has had fully booked days.

NMG Outdoor Living

Google search clicks rose from 75 a month to 508, and 11 jobs worth £90,500 have been won

Before. NMG sells garden rooms, grill pods, saunas and sheds. With only social media, it could not show its range or collect enquiries.

What we did. We launched NMG's first website: 343 pages, with one for every product and 19 guides such as planning permission for garden rooms. It gives instant price estimates and follows every enquiry to won or lost. We also ran its Google Ads.

The result. Google search clicks went from 75 a month to 508 between September 2025 and September 2026.

Communication was always so quick and any of our questions were answered within minutes.

Websites · Nonprofit housing, United States

ANDA

A Kansas City housing nonprofit's new brand and website, with a live map of the neighbourhoods it serves

Before. The Argentine Neighborhood Development Association builds affordable housing in Kansas City, Kansas, and helps local families become homeowners. It was relaunching with a new board.

What we did. We gave ANDA a new brand and a website that presents each housing project, explains the path to home ownership and invites donations. The map on the home page draws ANDA's service area from Wyandotte County's own GIS data.

Also for this client. ANDA's board runs its meetings and records on a system we built. It turns meeting transcripts into draft minutes and sends them for review, approval and digital signature.

KC Family Homes

A website and client portal cut a real estate team's paperwork from over two hours a deal to about ten minutes

Before. The team ran each sale across eight or more separate tools, and its coordinators spent over two hours on paperwork for every deal.

What we did. We made the public website, with neighbourhood guides, team profiles and a blog the team edits. Behind it, buyer and seller questionnaires fill in the deal records, sellers photograph each room from their phone and every deal runs from one portal, with contracts signed in DotLoop.

The result. The team now offers the system to other realtors.

Transaction coordinators went from 2+ hours of manual paperwork per deal to 10 minutes.

Excavaciones Cesar

A Spanish brand, site and Google profile put an excavation firm in Google's top 3 in four towns in two months

Before. The firm digs and demolishes across Baix Llobregat, near Barcelona. It had an outdated website, no Google Business Profile and no local rankings.

What we did. We designed a new logo and brand, moved the firm to a new domain with a website in Spanish, set up its Google Business Profile and put its email on Google Workspace at its own domain.

The result. Within two months it ranked in Google's top 3 in Vallirana, Corbera de Llobregat, Sant Andreu de la Barca and Molins de Rei, and in its second month calls from its new Google profile rose 75%.
